

Colin's story.

Colin wanted desperately to start his own business, in fact he had found the ideal premises. The problem was there was rampant competition for the premises and he needed to release money on his house- FAST

Like most people Colin worked long hours which meant he really valued our ability to handle the process from start to finish.

Colin secured the lease on his dream premises and is now about to start the business with his partner. He's happy and more importantly so is she!

Colin's story is typical of the people we help. We measure our sales in days not weeks, this is why on average a sale take 23 days.
